New Carson Scout Troop Organizing

GWEN BARRAN
Thanksgiving Day has come and gone, and St. Nick is breathing down our necks. It seems that Father Time puts on a sudden burst of speed as he sprints toward the 1952 finish line! And in the meantime, we'll keep up with the day-by-day happenings of our Carsonites...

One family that didn't cook turkey were the C. Wittenburgs on Archibald. They piled in the car last Wednesday night and spent the holiday in Bakersfield visiting relatives. All hands had a wonderful time, and the two youngsters, Dick and Bill, especially enjoyed playing in the snow along the Ridge route.

Also traveling north for the holiday were Mrs. June Lewis and children Barbara and Betty Rendel. They traveled on past Bakersfield to Springville where Mrs. Lewis' mother resides. The mountains are beautiful and not even a bit of engine trouble kept all from having a wonderful time visiting relatives and old friends.

A new troop of Boy Scouts under sponsorship of Carson St. PTA is scheduled to get under way very soon. Boys from 11 to 13 years of age are invited to join, and men interested in leadership are needed. The date for this first meeting has not yet been announced. Interested persons are urged to watch for notices, or they may call (Three 3134-J) for further details.

The children of Carson St. are being given an opportunity to learn about the projects they are studying at first hand. Mr. Hoskins and Mrs. Coons took their third graders to San Pedro to visit the Di. Carlo bakery, and several classes have been to Bank of America in Torrance for a look behind the scenes of banking—(wonder if they got any free samples?)—This week Mrs. Justice and Mr. Smith took their children to Los Angeles' Olvera St. for a peek at old Mexico, while Mr. Jensen's children are seeing beef "on the hoof" at the Great Western Stock Show at Union Stock Yards. Trips such as these aid the youngsters in correlating school with everyday life, and are valuable as well as interesting. The busy merchants and educators who plan them deserve the gratitude of all parents.

A nice party was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Kate Stockwell, 632 W. 214th, last week when friends gathered for lunch and viewed newest products of one of those demonstrating companies. It's always good to see old friends and sometimes it takes just such a party to get them together.

"The way NOT to start the day," was the featured theme in a most amusing skit presented to Carson St. PTA at the last meeting. Acting in the little play were Mrs. Ben Cluff, Mrs. William Nott, Mrs. Ward, school nurse, and the children of Mr. Smith's room. Also appearing at that time was Dorothy Kemper, director of the Avalon-Sepulveda playground, who spoke on the aims of the playground and told listeners that they plan a Christmas party again this year. Refreshments were served by the first grade room mothers, with Mr. Hoskins' and Mrs. Prigel's rooms each receiving a picture as room count prize.

TO FLORIDA... Marine Private First Class Gerald L. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, 3332 W. 185th St., has reported to the Third Marine Aircraft Wing for duty at the Miami Marine Corps Air Station. He was an El Camino student before enlisting in the Corps. His wife, Marilyn, is a Torrance resident.

be Rev. P. J. McGuinness, of the Nativity Catholic Church. Interment in Holy Cross Cemetery will follow. The infant leaves a brother, Manuel, and two sisters, Jennie and Alice.

Services Today For Infant Girl

Graveside services will be held this afternoon for five-month-old Irene Sineros, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Sineros, 2068 W. 203rd St. The infant died at Harbor General Hospital Tuesday following an illness which dated from birth. Conducting the services will

EC Cagers Have 4-1 Record, to Meet LACC

With four victories and one loss racked up to Sunday in season play, El Camino's basketball forces head for a twin bill Friday and Saturday nights with Los Angeles City College in home and home arrangement.

With a quartet of wins, El Camino went into Saturday night's contest with College of Sequoias (Visalia) as a slight favorite, but came out the victims of a razor-edge 54-51 contest.

The game, closer than skin and bones, was decided from the free-throw line. The Warriors missed 14, while their opponents canned all but five.

High-point man for the night was Bill Barron, EC forward, with 16, closely followed by Jack Burges and Bob Miner, with 10 apiece to rack up 30 of the Sequoias' 54 points. Chuck Miller for the Warriors tanked 11. Friday night, the fourth straight was racked up by the Warriors, as they eased past Pepperdine JV's, 62-51, with Alan Herring hitting 24 points to lead his team to victory.

Voters May Get Break in 1953

Registrar of Voters Benjamin S. Hite this week sent out his inquiries to city clerks throughout the county for information to be used in compiling his election calendar for 1953.

His worries about Torrance elections won't give him ulcers, according to City Clerk A. H. Bartlett. Torrance has no elections scheduled for 1953.
